In Cupid's Realm

Several of East Jordan's Young People Take Up the Bonds of Matrimony This Week.

"God, the best maker of all marriages
Combine your hearts in one, your lives in love."
—Tennyson.

MacFarlane-Crossman.

A date long to be remembered was Monday the 19th, for on that evening, with the moon outside lying low and full, two of our best known young people were united in marriage. Mr. Robert P. MacFarlane and Miss Lavina Crossman at the home of her parents. The rooms, perfectly and tastefully decorated with flowers, and brilliantly lighted, were in admirable keeping with the well dressed and cheerful crowds that filled the home. Miss Flora Haire sang some beautiful songs at intervals followed by piano selections by Miss Nicholas who also played Mendelssohn's wedding march at the entrance of the bride party. About eight young children advanced unrolling white ribbons, followed by others still younger scattering flowers. Then came as follows: John Porter escorting the groom, Miss Helen Turnbull of Huntsville Ont., maid of honor, and bringing up the rear the bride, beautifully gowned, leaning on her father's arm. The Rev. A. D. Grigsby officiated. Afterward congratulations and visiting were in order and later on delicious refreshments. Later on still Mr. and Mrs. MacFarlane left for Petoskey enroute for Pittsburg to visit relatives. The popularity of the bride and groom is evident from the many and costly gifts mostly of silver and cut glass. Friends from outside were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crossman and babe, and Mrs. DeCracker and daughter from Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown of Cheboygan, Misses Lot (four sisters) of Pigeon, Mrs. Eberhorst of Bay City and Mrs. Rogers of Bellaire. The best wishes of their many friends follow them into their unknown future.

Deane-Greenwood.

Thursday the 22nd was a happy day for one of our most esteemed young ladies, for Miss Eva Greenwood became that afternoon in her mother's home the wife of Mr. Charles Deane of Kalamazoo. Rev. A. D. Grigsby officiated and it was about 3 o'clock when the bridal pair were made one. An excellent dinner followed and later on Mr. and Mrs. Deane left for Kalamazoo where a beautiful new home awaits them. The many gifts beautiful and useful cut glass, silver, etc., were ample proof of the popularity of Mrs. Deane. All join in wishing her and her husband a very happy life.

Roberts-LaLonde.

St. Joseph's Catholic church was the scene of wedding festivities Monday morning last when, at eight o'clock, Miss Elizabeth, daughter of Moses LaLonde Sr., was united in marriage to Mr. John Roberts of New Ulisses, Kansas. Rev. Fr. McDougall performed the ceremony in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. Following the ceremony, Mrs. S. A. Bash, a sister of the bride, entertained at her home on the West Side to a wedding breakfast. The happy couple left that morning for Chicago, and will be at home at New Ulisses after October first.

Richards-Dewey.

At Frederic last Monday occurred the marriage of Mr. Fred Richards, a well known business man of East Jordan, to Mrs. Blanche Dewey, also of this city. They are spending a fortnight with Detroit friends.

How I Started My Rolling-mill.

(Man's Magazine Page of The Delineator)
By James L. Ford.

I was just entering upon my thirty-fourth year when, owing to the failure of my wife's father, I found myself obliged to make a living.

I had often wondered where all the steel rails came from, and now I determined to go into the business of supplying them to railroad companies. Having learned, through careful inquiry, that nearly all of them were made in rolling-mills, I persuaded the owner of a bankrupt iron-foundry to convert it into a rolling-mill. Then I went to a good reliable machinery man on the next block and told him to send me some of the very best rolling-mill machinery that he had in his store.

Meanwhile my noble wife had not been idle, and by the time I was ready to begin operations she had induced several of the most brilliant women in society to agree to buy all their steel rails of me. Touched by her unselfish devotion, I clasped her in my arms while the tears coursed down my cheeks.

Then I called on a railroad president, told him that I desired to become self-supporting, and asking him to buy some of my rails. He told me to deliver a basketful to his place of business every Saturday night.

Greatly elated over my prospects I called together a number of working men whom I found idle on the streets, and directed them to make some nice steel rails without delay and take them around to the kind railroad president.

Re-joining at the prospect of steady employment, the working men hastened to obey, and the rails that they made under my direction proved so durable that in a very short time I had all the orders that I could fill.

I attribute much of my success to the fact that each rail is delivered to the customer tastefully wrapped in tissue-paper fastened with pink ribbon.

The organ of the liquor dealers of Michigan, "Truth," had an article in a recent issue urging against any disturbance of the workingman's right to drink. That the workingman shall not be disturbed in his right to spend his money for liquor is the only favor the saloon has ever sought in his behalf. The organ of the liquor traffic of Michigan is not interested in the workingman's home or in his family or in his efficiency, or in any of the things which concern his comfort and his welfare. But that he shall be permitted to drink and through drinking shall increase his desire in that direction, regardless of every other tie on earth to him and every other obligation. That is the saloon's single and supreme interest in the workingman. And fortunately the workingman is coming to understand that fact. The labor unions are coming to understand it also and their strongest and most reliable leaders have become the most zealous and most effective opponents of the entire liquor business.

The Weather Bureau is reaching higher altitudes of ambiguity every day. Monday, for instance, it gave us "Unsettled and generally fair."

Platonic Marriage—Not For Real Men or Women.

Omitting sentimental pyrotechnics, and getting right down to practical day in and day out three meals and millinery existence, marriage is not an unselfish relationship, says Erman J. Ridgway in The Delineator for October. A man may protest, and he may believe, if he is very young and ardent that he is "taking this woman" to work for and cherish, and make happy; but, 'way down among his instincts, if he troubles to look, he will find a conviction that this particular woman will make a good home for him, and honor him among his fellows; that she will cater to his patriarchal aspirations in providing a family, and that in her he will continue to find through the years sweet satisfaction for his soul and body hunger.

The conviction may be unconscious, but it is there. If when a lover woos his lady-love she were to answer: "Yes, I'll marry you, if you will agree to a platonic marriage; no children, no love-making; rooms in a hotel; and an allowance," an old dodo might accept the terms, but any real man out of the wheel-chair stage would promptly take to his heels.

There are probably a few things which, if a woman knew she was going to miss them in the marriage relationship, would send her flying from it.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. E. and Wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, Ohio, or Philadelphia, Pa.

THE GRATITUDE OF ELDERLY PEOPLE.

Goes out to whatever helps give them ease, comfort and strength. Foley Kidney Pills cure kidney and bladder diseases promptly, and give comfort and relief to elderly people. Hite's Drug Store.

A lone bandit robbing a Pullman car on the St. Louis yard beat the porter to it.

Frederick Pinney Earle has come to the conclusion that the afflictive business is a deluding and a snare and wants the old lady to come home and cook his meals for him.

A pleasing, good high grade, truly flavored, amber colored cup of coffee can be had—and without the real Coffee danger, or damage to health—by simply using Dr. Shoop's new substitute, called "Health Coffee." Pure wholesome, toasted cereals, malt, oats, etc. make Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee both healthful and satisfying. No 20 to 30 minutes tedious boiling. "Made in a minute," says Dr. Shoop. If served as coffee, its taste will even trick an expert. Sold by G. L. Sherman & Son.
